Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 12 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold, Rain spreading from west Wednesday, turning to snow inland.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry and cold this evening and overnight with frost setting in quickly. High cloud will thicken overnight, with lower cloud in west later, bringing rain to Ayrshire and western Argyll late in night with possibly heavy rain.over the isles. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Wednesday:
Rain in west edging northeast, with some heavy rain especially over Kintyre and Islay, but perhaps freezing rain for a time inland and turning to snow as it spreads east. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rain, with snow in east, into Thursday, some travel disruption, clearing by afternoon. Freezing fog overnight, then dry start Friday, but rain, hill snow later. Drier and brighter again Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.